

The Houston Public Library (HPL) offers a rich mix of activities to celebrate NFLW, including foreign language movies (The Art and Literature Film series), bilingual storytimes, and a wide range of ongoing English Language Learning programming.

The Art and Literature Film series is presented in partnership with the Consulate General of Mexico, which generously has supported the celebration of National Foreign Language Week as well as other cultural programs at the Houston Public Library.

For language learning, HPL's collection includes books and movies in many languages and hundreds of Language Learning DVDs and CDs, as well as free Online Language Learning resources.
